

CORCY TAKEN LAST NIGHT BY FRENCH TROOPS

Also Capture Chateau and St. Paul Farm South of Village

ADDITIONAL GROUND GAINED BY THE FRENCH AND BRITISH

Straight Battle Front for Distance of Twelve Miles.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, July 11.—French troops last night captured the town of Corcy on the front southwest of Soissons, the war office announced today.

In addition to gaining complete possession of Corcy, including the Corcy railway station, the French took the Chateau and the farm of St.
Paul to the south of Corcy.

The capture was effected in the operation for the enlarging of the French positions to the east of the Retz forest. The French statement reads:

"In the course of the night French troops enlarged their gains in the outskirts of the forest of Retz. Our troops took possession of the entire village of Corcy, the railroad station of Corcy and the chateau and farm of St. Paul. Fifty prisoners including one officer remained in our hands."

"Two raids executed by us in the region of Maisons de Champagne and an unnamed hill resulted in a dozen prisoners being taken by our troops."

POSITIONS IMPROVED.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, July 11.—In a local operation carried out last night south of the Somme, east of Villers-Bretonneux, the British positions were improved, says today's war office announcement.

The Germans again last night bombed somewhat heavily the British positions east of Amiens on both sides of the Somme river, the war office announced today. The statement reads:

"We improved our positions slightly during the night, east of Villers-Bretonneux."

"Yesterday afternoon and last night successful raids in which we captured several prisoners and a machine gun were carried out by us in the neighborhood of Merris and Festubert."

"The hostile artillery has shown some activity against our positions astride the Somme."

MADE SUCCESSFUL RAIDS

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.)
The French continued their faming tactics last night on the western side of the Marne salient, southwest of Soissons, capturing the town and railway station of Corcy and the farm and chateau of St. Paul, south of the town.

The gain of ground serves still further to protect the forest of Villers-Bretonneux (otherwise called the Retz forest) which forms a bulwark of the defense of Champagne, the important French base and railway junction on the east of that town.

On the British front south of the Somme Field Marshal Haig's infantry pushed still further forward last night and won additional holding ground east of Villers-Bretonneux on the ridge which stands as an important eastward defense of the allied base at Amiens.

Raiding operations comprised the major portion of the activities on the remainder of the allied front.

The operation on the French front, resulting in the capture of Corcy, gains in interest in that it represents a continuation of a series of important local attacks on this front between the Aisne and the Marne, begun by General Petain on Sunday. It is along this line that the allies apparently expect it quite probable that the Germans will resume their offensive.

Sunday's attack took the form of a drive that carried the French line forward two-thirds of a mile on a

WASHINGTON MAN'S PRISONER OF HUNS

Dr. Breckenridge Bayne.

Dr. Breckenridge Bayne, popular in Washington society circles before the war, is now a prisoner in Germany. He was taken when he refused to leave wounded men on the battlefield when the hospital staff to which he was attached retired before victorious enemy attacks. He was serving as a field physician with the British Red Cross. The first word which came to his relatives was sent by a prisoner whom Dr. Bayne treated in Germany. Indication are he is still treating allied prisoners who fall wounded into the hands of the Huns.

PROHIBS WERE VICTORIOUS IN THE FIRST TEST

Washington, July 11.—Victorious in the first test of strength, prohibition advocates in the senate today renewed their efforts for passage of the amendment to the emergency agricultural prohibition bill providing for national prohibition for the period of the war. Another test was expected to come today with a vote on a motion by Senator Phelan of California to strike wine from the list of prohibited liquors.

The close vote of 26 to 33, yesterday against sustaining the ruling of Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, president pro tempore that the amendment should be stricken from the bill as not germane to the measure, was not held by prohibition leaders today to indicate their full strength.

A number of senators who voted to sustain the chair favor the amendment, they said, in predicting that the amendment will be adopted by a large vote before the end of the week.

Opponents of the amendment, which would prohibit the sale except for export of intoxicating liquors after January 1, next, and the manufacture of beer and wine after November 1, were expected to attempt again today to have the measure replaced by the house telegraph and telephone control resolution.
Supporters of the amendment were insistent that it be kept before the senate until a final vote is reached.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO WORKMEN AT A GOV'T. ARSENAL

Philadelphia, July 11.—Two workmen are known to be dead and four others injured in an explosion today at the government arsenal

The explosion is said to have been caused by a workman dropping a loaded shell.

WIRE MEASURE IS UP IN THE SENATE

Washington, July 11.—Consideration begun in the senate today of the house resolution empowering the president to direct telegraphs, telephone, cable and radio wires during the war. Prompt adoption was predicted by administration leaders who hoped to avoid protracted debate.

When the prohibition bill came up automatically at 2 o'clock the senate agreed to lay it aside temporarily and proceed with the wire control measure. No objection to the procedure came from the prohibition advocates.

ENGLISH HONOR THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS

York England, Wednesday, July 10.—This city today observed a special holiday in honor of American troops, 300 of these soldiers parading through the main streets. The Americans were received at the Guild hall by the lord mayor, the archbishop of York and General John Sir Maxwell, commander in chief of the northern command.

After the parade the Americans were entertained by sightseeing tours and a supper in a local park.

ROBBERS HOLD UP TRAIN AND LOOT EXPRESS

M. K. & T. Passenger Train Boarded By a Dozen Men

SEVERAL PERSONS SHOT REVOLVERS DISCHARGED

Officials State That But Very Little Money was Secured

(Associated Press Telegram)

Paola, Kas., July 11.—A posse of 200 men today were patrolling the banks of the Marais de Cygne river, near here, awaiting the signal to rush a large patch of timber in which it was believed, were hiding a dozen men who late last night held up a southbound Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train at Koch siding, just south of Paola, shot three persons, looted the express and mail cars, and made their escape.

The posse is composed of members of the County Anti-Horse Thief Association and home guards from Os-awatomie, and is led by county and railroad officials. The posse men were called together within an hour after news of the robbery became known and immediately started in pursuit of the fleeing bandits who left the scene of the hold-up in automobiles. A report reaching here early today was that the bandits, eagerly pursued by the possemen abandoned their cars and took refuge in the timber which affords an excellent hiding-place.

Details of the robbery in which two of the train crew and a woman passenger were wounded by bullets from the bandits' guns, as related by railway employees, seem to indicate the robbers "shot-up" the train to terrorize the passengers and crew.
No attempt was made to rob the passengers. The train was flagged as it was backing from Koch siding and the bandits swarmed about the engine, forcing the engineer and firemen at the point of revolvers back into the smoking car. The doors of the smoking and day coaches were locked and several of the robbers ran up and down the aisle shooting into the floor and through the roof, stray bullets from their guns striking Fireman R. E. Carter in the ankle and C. T. Wilcher, the train auditor, in the thigh.

Others of the bandits boarded the mail and express cars, uncoupled them from the rest of the train and with their own men at the engine throttle ran out to the main line and backed north. As they passed, the standing coaches they fired into the windows, and it was then that Mrs. L. D. Williams of Achille, Okla., was wounded.

A mile north of the siding the mail and express cars were stopped, and the robbers proceeded to rifle them, throwing the express safe from the car and breaking it open. They are said to have taken a quantity of registered mail. The sum of money taken from the mailbags could not be estimated. According to the express messenger and mail clerks who also were forced into the smoking car with the engine crew, there was

MANY WORKERS WERE EXECUTED BY THE GERMANS

Amsterdam, July 11.—Since the Germans entered Finland 72,000 workmen there have been arrested and many of them have been executed, says Hugo Haase, leader of the minority socialists, in a recent speech in the reichstag, according to a verbatim report published by the Hetzvolk.

The deputy also criticized German rule in Livonia and Estonia. After pointing out that these who provoked civil war in Finland were responsible for the calling in of the Germans, Deputy Haase said:

"The list of names sentenced to death in Finland contains the names of a former premier and fifty socialist members of parliament, some of whom already have been shot. Owing to the numerous daily execution in the town of Sveaborg it has been renamed Golgotha."

The speaker then referred to the suppression of Vernacular newspapers in the provinces of Livonia and Estonia and added:

"Fifty persons recently were arrested at Dorpat and German military dictatorship rules everywhere. A boy aged ten was sentenced to a long imprisonment for concealing arms, while a boy 15 years old was sentenced to death for picking a manifesto. For a similar offense a woman named Julia Datt, was executed."

Deputy Haase then read a letter from a Bolshevik, now under arrest, which said:

"Julia Datt is dead but her last words will live forever, as will the last male dictions which she flung at the German hangman and oppressors."

CANADIAN NURSES BURY SISTER, KILLED BY HUN BOMB, PAUSE AT GRAVE OF U. S. NURSE, ALSO RAID VICTIM

Canadian nurses at American nurse's grave after burying Sister Lowe, Canadian worker.

It was another big "victory" for the Huns when their air raiders bombed a "defenseless" Canadian general hospital in France recently. This photo shows some of the nurses leaving the graveyard near the hospital after burying Sister Lowe, who died of wounds received in the raid. These nurses halted at the grave of an American nurse killed in a previous air raid, straightened the decorations on the mound and offered a prayer for her.

REPORT BUSINESS CONDITIONS OVER COUNTRY AS GOOD

Washington, July 11.—Business conditions continue active and satisfactory with general confidence expressed in the future denoted by liberal advance buying according to the federal reserve board's monthly summary, issued today, based on reports from the twelve federal reserve districts.

Labor shortages are emphasized in the reports from every district except the Minneapolis territory, where the situation is described as "good although the effect of the draft is beginning to show itself in the increasing employment of women."

The Kansas City district, which includes a large portion of the wheat belt, reports that "the movement of farm labor is being controlled as never before," through the cooperation of the government labor offices.

Crops were reported as above normal in all districts except in the Dallas district where protracted drought injured severely the small grain crop. General adjustment of business to meet governmental requirements, and unexpected ease in meeting tax payments are universally commented upon. Construction and building have been curtailed everywhere, the summary indicated, except in cases of government requirements for storage and housing.
Money rates generally are firm.

Conditions in the Cleveland district follow:

Cleveland—Business good; crops satisfactory and promising; money rates increasingly firm.

FRENCH AGE IN AN EXHIBITION FLIGHT

Chicago, July 11.—Lieutenant George Plachaire, a French "ace," with a record of 12 German planes brought down, announced today that he would go to Detroit and fly from there to Chicago next Sunday in his Spad machine, a late type of French fighting machine. The lieutenant said he expected to make the flight from Detroit in less than four hours.

MEN IN THE AIR DROP FLOWERS ON THE FUNERAL CORTEGE OF MAJ. MITCHEL

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, July 11.—The body of John Purroy Mitchel in a flag draped casket on which rested the cap which he wore as a major of aviation was borne through the streets of New York today while tens of thousands watched in silent tribute.

New York has seen other military funerals for heroes of the nation but those who witnessed the solemn procession which escorted the former mayor's body from City Hall to St.
Patrick's Cathedral today felt that none could have been more impressive. All along the route stood people with bared and bowed heads, many in tears.

City Hall park was dense with citizens and the procession of soldiers, sailors, policemen, firemen, Red Cross nurses, civilians representing all city departments, distinguished men of the city, state nation, and representatives of the allies, had some difficulty in forming.

Behind the caisson followed Major Mitchel's horse with boots reversed in the stirrups and bearing also his reversed sword. Next came his widow and relatives in carriages, followed by the pallbearers. Also in line were aviators, with whom he had trained for service in France. Military and city department hands fell in at appropriate intervals.

An airplane circled overhead as the march began, later to be joined by six others which flew back and forth over the route dropping flowers. The drone of their motors carried to the crowds below a sorrowful significance for it was as an aviator that Mitchel died.

Meantime much of the city's business was suspended.

Behind the gun carriage the order of marchers included Mayor Hylan, the honorary pallbearers, officials of the present city government, men who served under Major Mitchel while he was mayor and the hundreds of members of the mayor's committee on national defense. President Wilson was represented by Secretary Tamm.

Business in the city was virtually suspended during the funeral services.

A plan for a memorial for Mayor Mitchel, with popular subscriptions financing it was endorsed today by the Publishers Association of New York City. The movement was inaugurated by the New York World.

Paris, July 11.—Two American Y.
M. C. A. workers have been found guilty and sentenced to confinement by a general court martial on charges of attempting to evade censorship regulations for receiving parcels, letters and photographs for delivery to relatives and the friends of American members of the American expeditionary force. On release they will be sent back to the United States.

Washington, July 11.—In response to a request for postponement of the July draft call in the northwest where wheat is ready for harvest Provost Marshal General Crowder has informed the department of agriculture that the military program will not permit of delay in filling the monthly demand for tack at Tcheran of Gordon Paddock, U. S. consul at Tabriz, was announced today by the state department.

threatened by Turks, who afterwards seized the American consulate there, and sacked an American hospital.

PRES. WILSON WILL GET REPORT FIRST OF AIRCRAFT INQUIRY

Dayton, July 11.—The aircraft production inquiry, under the direction of the department of justice, which is in progress here with Attorney General Gregory and Charles E.
Hughes in the principal roles, took a new turn today with the arrival of N. W. Kellogg, from Washington, nationally known as an airplane manufacturer. The veil of secrecy which has encompassed the inquiry thus far is drawn still tighter today with Kellogg's arrival. Chairman Hughes of the committee, declares that nothing will be made public of the committee's findings in the aircraft inquiry until President Wilson having been given the report, makes it public. There are indications the investigation may continue the balance of this week and extend into the first of next week, the attorney general and Mr. Hughes having apparently decided to remain here until a full inquiry is completed.

and singly, filed past the flag draped coffin containing the body of Major John Purroy Mitchel, former mayor of New York City, to pay silent tribute to his valor, unassured loyalty and supreme sacrifice. Motor cars from uptown brought countless workers and others in the continuous stream that flowed through the rotunda of the historic old city hall where for four years Major Mitchel as mayor administered the affairs of the city.

Several hours before the funeral procession started for the service at St. Patrick's Cathedral it was estimated that 10,000 persons had visited city hall and hundreds were still in line.

The solemnity and ceremony of military rites marked the funeral today. The gun carriage which conveyed the coffin to the cathedral was escorted by detachments of soldiers, sailors and marines, three regiments of state guards, a regiment of police and a platoon of firemen. A squadron of eighteen airplanes circling over the cortege dropped flowers upon it as a last tribute from the men of the air service to a fallen comrade.

of marchers included Mayor Hylan,
who served under Major Mitchel
while he was mayor and the hun-
committee on national defense. Pres-

ADVANCE MADE BY ITALIANS IN ALBANIA

Have Made a Gain of 15 Miles Over a Fifty-Mile Front

COMPEL AUSTRO-HUNGARIANS TO GO BACK TO SKUMBI RIVER

Evidence Indicates Austrians Lost 250,000 in Late Offensive.

Washington, July 11.—An official dispatch from Rome today reports unchecked advance of Italian troops in Albania, with Berat as an objective. From the Vojusa the Italians have carried all positions to the Semeni in an advance of approximately 15 miles over a 50-mile front.
"The Italian left wing aided by cavalry units," says the dispatch, "reached Fieri protected by British monitors. The Austrian aviation camp, was occupied by our troops, which captured a large quantity of war material."

"Meanwhile our right wing, after violent fighting, conquered the Berat positions, rock by rock, climbing to the summit 2000 metres high."

"The actual advance has assured the Italian command safe possession of Malacastra on the left and Tomorica on the right, standing 2500 metres above the sea and dominating Berat city, proper, and the Devoli valley."

"Austro-Hungarians falling back."

London, July 11.—Italian troops on their offensive in Albania continue to advance, says a dispatch from Rome to the Central News agency. The Austro-Hungarians are falling back on the Skumbi river, 25 miles north of Berat.

SUFFERED BIG LOSSES.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, July 10.—Evidence secured from Austrian prisoners indicates that the Austro-Hungarian losses during the recent offensive were in the neighborhood of 250,000.

The prisoners say that corporal punishment in the Austrian army, which was abolished last year by Emperor Charles, has been re-established in practice.

Other reports made by captives tend to confirm accounts of poor wheat and potato crops in Austria.

The condition of these crops is said to be particularly bad in Bohemia, in the region of Pilsen.

SYMPATHY ABSENT IN LETTERS SENT BY GOV. WILLIS

Granville, Ohio, July 11.—Entire lack of sympathy with the victims of the Lusitania horror and of reprobatation of the German authors of it, shown through absence of the expression of these feelings, is attributed to former Governor Frank B. Willis by his accuser, Prof. William Hannibal Johnson, of the faculty of Denison University.

Another charge is that of imputing improperly to President Wilson the preachment of a neutrality that permitted the former Chief Executive to take refuge behind this screen in his present defense of his position prior to the declaration of war by America.

In responding to Willis's explanations and counter charges, the educator tells his own story regarding comment until now held back. Prof. Johnson's purpose being to draw attention to facts shown by his adversary's own words.

"1. There is in all that he said not the slightest word or hint of sympathy for the victims of the Lusitania or reprobatation for the Government that ordered their lawless and brutal slaughter, although that event had happened but a short time before, and I emphasized it particularly in my side of the correspondence," asserts Prof. Johnson.

EFFICIENT CANVASSING.

While the war lasts a great deal of work canvassing our cities and towns must be done. Every one of our communities down to the littlest village will have to be covered for Liberty bonds, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. War Savings Stamps and several other funds. It is work that should be done systematically and scientifically, with the least waste of effort. In many places it has not been done efficiently, and the results have consequently been disappointing.

ansas City, Kan., has worked out a scheme for running these canvasses that would work well in many counties. A permanent canvassing organization was formed.

The city was divided into divisions, in command of majors. The divisions were divided into sections, in charge of captains.

The sections were divided into groups, in charge of lieutenants. Groups, in charge of lieutenants. And the groups were divided into blocks, in charge of sergeants. Then there was a canvasser for each block. Each officer was responsible for the covering of whatever part of the city came in his charge.

The plan adopted in Licking county however can hardly be improved upon. Here both the city and the rural districts were organized under efficient leaderships the whole organization of 500 men being under the direction of an executive committee made up of men representing both city and country. Under this plan every section is covered and the men whose heart and soul are in the work have learned by experience just how to proceed to get fine results.

The Licking county plan worked well in the Third Liberty loan drive, it worked beautifully in the recent War Chest Drive and it will not fail in the War Savings Stamp and Fourth Liberty loan campaign which are to come.

The organization now formed is pledged for the period of the war. The men are ready for whatever work the Executive Committee plans.

As it now is in most places, a comparatively small number of men have to do this work, and it becomes a burden to them. They may not have time to do it thoroughly. But when divided up as tried out in Kansas City, in Licking county and in other communities, the thing becomes a burden on no one, and the maximum of results is secured. It is a scheme that would work anywhere, of course requiring efficient men at the head.

1920 CENSUS.

The federal government has already commenced with the preliminaries for taking the 1920 census.

The following clippings are taken from the Daily Advocate of January 21, 1911, from the proclamation issued by Secretary of State Graves of the 1910 census. It is quite interesting not only for what it contains, but also for the comparison it makes with the census of 1900.

Secretary Graves said that any municipality in Ohio with a population of 5,000 or more is classed as a city, and under that figure as a village. Then Ohio had 82 cities out of municipalities of 780. Wonder how many cities our state will have in 1920? There were 71 cities in 1900. Several county seats in 1910 were villages. Cleveland was the largest city and Jacksonboro with 55 souls the smallest, but it had 77 persons in 1900.

1900 to 1910, had the largest decrease of any large city, falling from 17,616 to 14,858. Fewer persons living in the agricultural districts in 1910 than in 1900.

East Youngstown was not on the map in 1900 yet ten years later it lacked only 28 babies of being a city of 5,000. Newark grew from 18,157 to 25,404. What it will be in 1920? Utica from 826 to 1729. Johnstown from 638 to 805. Bebron from 455 to 677. Alexandria lost six dropping to 414. Granville dropped from 1425 to 1394. St. Louisville lost 41 dropping to 244. Hanover gained from 314 to 331. Pataskala jumped from 675 to 800. Kirkersville has been incorporated since 1910. The population of the United States in 1910 was over 93,000,000. Ohio 4,767,121. Licking county 55,590.

The census figures of 1920 will be an important item in the redistricting of the state for congressional and state senatorial districts. It may also change the number of city councilmen and members of the board of education.

WILLIS AND THE EMBARGO.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

What advantage ex-Governor Willis sees in airing his pre-war views in favor of an American embargo on arms, it is difficult to conceive. Mr. Willis was so clearly wrong in his contention and so clearly out of harmony with the majority opinion in Ohio and elsewhere that one might suppose he would leave the publication of his correspondence with the Denison professor to someone else, if it had to appear at all.

The former governor naively insists that he did not know then that he was voicing a pro-German position in demanding that the United States should stop shipments of munitions to Germany's enemies. One must give Mr. Willis credit for sincerity in this—adding, however, that he stood pretty nearly alone among intelligent men in his innocence of the fact that an active German propaganda was under way throughout America to force exactly the embargo measure that he, then governor of the state, was urging.

Mr. Willis, of course, got much the worst of the argument with Professor Johnson. The professor not only had the backing of international law and of the usage of nations, but his was the common sense view as well. Mr. Willis should have known—must have known, for he is a thinking citizen—that for the United States to place an embargo upon munitions would have been the equivalent to allying this nation with Germany and against France and Great Britain. Such a measure as Mr. Willis advocated and which he declared would be "in harmony with our declarations for peace," might easily have thrown the decision of the war in German's favor many months ago.

Supposedly, the controversy was closed with America's entrance into the war. Only Mr. Willis' strange action in giving the public the correspondence with Professor Johnson could justify its discussion at this late date.

Munitions made by American private enterprises were, of course, on sale to whomever chose to buy. It was not America's fault that the entente allies could come and that the central powers could not come to America's shores to purchase these munitions. It would have been contrary to the usages of nations, contrary to Germany's own practice in previous wars, for the United States as a neutral to refuse to sell to Germany's foes what Germany herself was unable to buy because her commerce had been swept from the seas.

Whatever pleasure ex-Governor Willis finds in this emphasizing his own perverted views of three years ago, will not be begrudged him by Republican or Democrat. Kindly keep your own peace and assume that Mr. Willis of 1915 sees the error into which the Willis of 1915 fell with such a splash.

A FIGUREHEAD GONE.

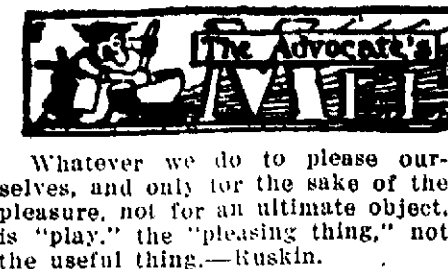

(Philadelphia Record.)

The Sultan of Turkey was such an absolute nonentity that his passing is likely to cause no complications of any kind. Probably the Kaiser will send a telegram of condolence regretting the departure of his loyal companion in the Moslem faith, and Enver Bey will pick out some equally feeble character to pose as the head of the Ottoman Government. Then that hideous travesty on human justice known as Turkish rule will continue its downward course to ruin.

In his interesting reminiscences regarding his career as American Ambassador at Constantinople, Mr. Morgenthau has brought out clearly that there really is no such thing as a vital, independent Turkish Government. That once great country has, through German intrigues and money, become a mere vassal of Kaiser Wilhelm, who controls its destinies through two unscrupulous political bosses and military dictators, Enver Bey and Talaat Bey. For years the Sultan has been the veriest figurehead, a harmless, kindly old man, who for reasons of State was permitted to occupy the throne. He has never had any power, and there is no reason to suppose that his successor will be allowed to have any.

If Germany is decisively beaten in the war Turkey's disruption will follow as a matter of course. For the sake of the millions of Greeks, Jews, Armenians, Syrians, Arabians and others who have for centuries been ground under the yoke of this medieval oppression, there ought to be no question of Germany's overwhelming defeat. In that event it will be immaterial whether what little will remain of Turkey shall continue under a Sultan or accept some other form of government.

We expect to hear of von Kuchlmann being sunk without a trace—Washington Star.

It's a Habit of Cars.
Last Saturday Hadda Cole went up to Newark to visit her niece which has recently moved their. It was the hurry first time Hadda had ever ridden on these here interurban cars and she was a little mite scared she wouldn't do things rite. So when the car was a-pullin' into Newark she pulled the conductor man by the sleeve an' says she, "Which one o' these here doors will I go out by when we stop at Newark?" she says. "Either one o' them, ma'am," says the conductor. "This here car stops at both ends," he says.

PRESENT STATE OF WAR.

(New York Commercial.)

Since the Germans started their great drive on the Channel ports last March they have taken about 183,000 prisoners of war, according to their official reports, which have not been contradicted. They also captured territory in proportion to the casualties they inflicted on their foes. We are gradually learning how they did it.

They changed their tactics and thereby surprised the English, French, Portuguese and Belgian forces opposed to them. They used poison gas in a new way by flooding their enemy's battle front and the gas, carried by the wind, which enabled them to advance and maneuver at will while the allied troops had to retreat to ground where they could breathe.

This cost the allies a large part of their artillery because the gas killed the horses and partly incapacitated the men. Gas masks are useless after their absorbent capacity is exhausted, which happens in a few hours. The second surprise in battle tactics was the establishment of machine gun barrages which held allied reserves in check quite as effectively as the old artillery barrage. Having lost most of their guns, the allied troops could not overcome the machine gun barrage by heavier gunfire, and the Germans were able to consolidate with little trouble the positions they gained. They were also favored by the weather which made airplane scouting difficult and ineffective.

It is idle to deny or gloss over the generalship of the German High Command or the effectiveness of the first line troops that carried out these new tactics. To do such work the Huns must have been well fed and able bodied. We know what they did any how they did it. Summer weather is less favorable for such tactics, and we are assured that the allied troops have plenty of gas shells and machine guns with which to resist a repetition of the tactics which carried the Huns to the Marne and the gates of Amiens. Every day brings fresh American troops into the field and those already engaged have given a splendid account of themselves.

If the Huns cannot attain their objectives, Paris and the Channel ports, this summer they have little chance to win in the west. Their initial gains fell short of these objectives, and the odds against them are growing heavier all the time. Our War Department is not underrating the foe and will have four million men under arms by the first of January, 1919. Every West Pointer carries in the back of his head the lesson of the first year of our Civil War, which would have ended quickly if the Federal Government had called a million men to the colors at the start. That mistake is not being made again, much to the surprise of the Kaiser, who counted on history repeating itself.

The Ohio War Board Says Today

You have heard much about Americanization. Do you know what it means?

It means:
The use of a common language for the entire nation.
The desire of all the people in America to unite in common citizenship under one flag.
The combating of anti-American propaganda.
The abolition of racial prejudice, barriers and discriminations, and of immigrant colonies and sections which keep people in America apart.
The maintenance of American standards of living through the proper use of American foods, care of children, and new world homes.
The creation of, and understanding of, and love for America, and of the desire of immigrants to remain in America, to have a home here, and to support American institutions and laws.

Some people are ambitious to rise and shine, others prefer to hide their light under a bushel.

visory Commission of seven persons to act with, under and by the authority of the council. In the terms of the act the council is, among other things, charged with the "co-ordination of industries and resources for the national security and welfare," and with the "creation of relations which will render possible in the time of need the immediate concentration and utilization of the resources of the nation."

A Question of Gender.

Brains Are Useful.
When American soldiers are decorated with the croix de guerre most of the citations read more or less to the effect that "with calmness, judgment and bravery" the rewarded hero performed his act of gallantry. We on this side should remember that not only is bravery needed here but calmness and judgment as well. Victory demands a good deal more than hysterical enthusiasm.—Chicago News.

A Wild Beast.
Bonar Law was not for wrong when he told parliament that Germany was merely a wild bear at large doing what damage it could. The sinking of a hospital ship without warning can add but little to the sum total of infamy committed by Germany in violation of all civilized rules and the customs of humanity. She is inflaming the passionate ill will of civilized people all over the world, and this ill will will be expressed later on in bombs and bullets and other engines of war. Such outrages will result in increased energy on the part of the allies and make sure their victory, because when people know that they are fighting for what is right they fight more valiantly and more desperately.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

If you went into a dugout the men already in there would shout, "Don't stick in a bunch—spread out!" While you were in a dugout you kept expecting to be buried alive and when you went outside you thought the Boches were aiming at you direct—and there was no place at all where you felt safe.

But the fire bay looked better than the other places to me. I had not been there more than a few minutes when a big one dropped in and that bay was just one mess. Out of the 24 men in the bay only eight escaped.

When the stretcher bearers got there they did not have much to do in the way of rescue—it was more pallbearers' work.

A stretcher bearer was picking up one of the boys, when a grenade landed alongside of him and you could not find a fragment of either of them. That made two that landed within twelve feet of me; yet I was not even scratched.

When I got so that I could move I went over to where the captain was standing, looking through a periscope over the parapet. I was very nervous and excited and was afraid to speak to him, but somehow I thought I ought to ask for orders. But I could not say a word. Finally a shell whizzed over our heads—just missed us, it seemed like, and I broke out: "What did you see? What's all of the news?" and so on. I guess I chattered like a monkey.

Then he yelled: "You're the gunner officer. You're just in time—I've located their mortar batteries."

I surely wished I was the gunner officer. I would have enjoyed it more if I could have got back at Fritz somehow. But I was not the gunner officer and I told him so. I had to shout at him quite a while before he would believe me. Then he wanted me to find the gunner officer, but I did not know where to find him. If I could have got to our guns I guess I would have had another medal for working overtime, but I missed the chance there.

About this time another bomb came over and clouted out the best friend I had in my company. Before the war he had been one of the finest singers in the Paris opera houses. When he was with us he used to say that the only difference between him and Caruso was $2,500 a night.

A polu and I dragged him into a dugout, but it was too late. One side of his face was blown off; the whole right side of him was stripped off and four fingers of the right hand were gone.

I stuck my head out of the dugout and there was the captain discussing the matter with himself, cursing the Germans from here to Helgoland and putting in a word for the bombs every once in a while. All up and down the trenches you could hear our men cursing the Germans in all kinds of languages. Believe me, I did my bit and I could hear somebody else using good old United States cuss words, too. It certainly did not make me feel any better, but it gave me something to do. I think that was why all of us cursed so much then, though we were pretty handy with language at any time. But when you are under heavy fire like that and cannot give it back as good as you get, you go crazy unless you have something to do. Cussing is the best thing we could think of.

Up the trench the third bay was simply smashed in and the Germans were placing bomb after bomb right in it and in our. The captain yelled out that he was going up to the next bay to examine it, but no more had he got there than he had his head taken clean off his shoulders.

At daybreak our trenches were all pounded in and most of our dugouts were filled up. Then Fritz opened up with his artillery fire right on us. We thought they were going to charge and we figured their barrage would lift and we could see them come over.

We received orders to stand to with fixed bayonets. Then the man at the periscope shouted, "They come!" A battery directly behind us went into action first and then they all joined in and inside of five minutes about eight hundred guns were raising Cain with Fritz. The Boches were caught square in No Man's Land and our rifles and machine guns simply mowed them down. Many of them came half way across, then dropped their guns and ran for our trenches to give themselves up. They could not have got back to their own trenches.

It was a shame to waste a shell on these poor fish. If they had been driven the law would prevent you from hitting them—you know the kind. They could hardly drag themselves along.

That is the way they look when you have got them. But when they have got themselves out of the trench tabs—ordered us to leave the car there and said he would direct us where to go. He insisted that we go on foot, but I could not understand when he tried to explain why.

We soon saw the probable reason for the burgomaster's refusal to ride in the car. All around for about a mile the roads were heavily mined and small red eggs on iron staves were stuck between the cobblestones, as warnings not to put in much time around those places. Also, there were notices stuck up all around warning people of the mines and forbidding heavy carts to pass. When we got off the road I breathed again!

After a great deal of questioning we finally reached our destination and made our report to the local commandant. We told him all we could and in turn received various information from him. We were then taken over to the hotel. Here we read a few Paris newspapers, that were several weeks old, until about eight, when we had dinner, and a fine dinner it was, too.

After we had eaten all we could, and wished for more room in the hold, we went out into the garden and yanked a while with some gendarmes, and then went to bed. We had a big room on the third floor front. We had just turned in, and were all set for a good night's rest, when there was an explosion of a different kind from any I had heard before, and we and the bed rocked about, like a canoe in the wake of a stern-wheeler.

There were seven more explosions, and then they stopped, though we could hear the rattle of a machine gun at some distance away. Bartel said it must be the forts, and after some argument I agreed with him. He said that the Germans must have tried an advance under cover of a bombardment, and that as soon as the forts got into action the Germans breezed. We were not worried much, so we did not get out of bed.

A few minutes later we heard footsteps on the roof, and then a woman in a window across the street, asking a gendarme whether it was safe to go back to bed. Then I got up and took a look into the street. There were a lot of people standing around talking, but it was not interesting enough to keep a tired man up, so into the hay.

It seemed about the middle of the night when Bartel called me, but he said it was time to get out and get to work. We found he had made a poor guess, for when we were half dressed he looked at his watch and it was only a quarter past seven, but we decided to stay up, since we were that far along, and then go down and cruise for a breakfast.

When we got downstairs and found some of the hotel people it took them a long time to get it through our heads that there had been some real excitement during the night. The explosions were those of bombs dropped by a Zeppelin, which had sailed over the city.

The first bomb had fallen less than two hundred yards from where we slept. No wonder the bed rocked! It had struck a narrow three-story house around the corner from the hotel, and had blown it to bits. Ten people had been killed outright, and a number died later. The bomb tore a fine hole and hurled pieces of itself several hundred yards. The street itself was filled with rocks, and a number of houses were down, and others wrecked. When we got out into the street and talked with some army men we found that even they were surprised by the force of the explosion.

We learned that the Zepp had sailed not more than five hundred feet above the town. Its motor had been stopped just before the first bomb was let go, and it had slid along perfectly silent and with all lights out. The purr that we had thought was machine guns, after the eighth explosion, was the starting of the motor, as the Zepp got out of range of the guns that were being set for the attack.

The last bomb had struck in a large square. It tore a hole in the cobblestone pavement about thirty feet square and five feet deep. Every window on the square was smashed. The fronts of the houses were riddled with various sized holes. All the crockery and china and mirrors in the house were in fragments.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

The following letter has been received by Mrs. James B. O'Shaughnessy of 228 Elmwood avenue, from her son Joseph, who is now in France with the American Expeditionary Forces.

Somewhere in France,
Sunday, June 16, 1918

Dear Mother—Well, here I am at last. I suppose you got the card telling you our boat got over O. K.

The trip was real nice only we were somewhat disappointed, for we didn't run into any submarines. We stayed in England a few days and looked over some of the country and went through some of their castles. It is a nice country but goodness it is about seven hundred years behind the times. London may be bigger than New York, but there's more life in New York in five minutes than there is in London in five years. France is behind the times too, but the people have more life in them than the English. They seem more like the Americans in their action.

There isn't very much for me to write about, mother, for the censor will cut out everything I say about military matters and that's about the only subject we know anything about over here.

Before I forget I want to tell you not to put 108 Field Signal Bn on my letters for we probably won't be with them very long—just send it "Photo Unit, 35th Division, American E. F.
Be sure and spell out the American for some of our mail has been mixed with the Australian Forces.

Now I suppose I've told you all I know so will have to close. Give my regards to all our friends and love to all the family. Your loving son, JOE

P. S. Send my address to Frank so he can lock me up when he comes over.

The following interesting letter was written by Corporal Karl Schaus, who is with the British Expeditionary Forces "somewhere in France," to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaus of 94 Ninth street.

June 19, 1918

My Dear Mother and Dad—It is nearly the close of another fine day and all goes well with your soldier boy over here. We are very comfortably situated among the hills of France. About the only thing we really need is a little news from the states for so far practically no mail has reached us but we are hoping

LIEUT. GEO. E. SMITH.

Lieut. Geo. E. Smith, a brother of Mrs. A. Oakleaf of 137 Webb street, has arrived safely overseas. Lieut.
Smith, a former Newark boy, enlisted in the Engineers Corps at Chicago day by day and no doubt our hopes will be awarded within a very short while from all reports. Could you imagine yourself isolated from the rest of the world, knowing yourself and ones around you to be O. K., but having a strong desire for just a word of good news from the ones outside. That is the situation here but no doubt you had even a strange desire, if possible, until you received that first note from me. However, you may rest assured, at all times, that no news is good news for it is not possible at all times for us to write letters just when we would like.

I remember how the whole of down town Washington, as well as the ones residing in that dear little bungalow on the heights of Old Virginia, used to crane their necks to get a view of an airship that might happen to be soaring over-head, but here in this country they are nearly as common as birds and the people seldom look skyward. The natives all know by the sound whether they are friendly planes or not.

Well, I will have to cut this short for the censor might not have time to read a book of this tonight and I would like to get what I have written started on the way by morning.
With much love, from your truly KARL.

Editor Advocate—I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the identification medal presented to the boys in service by the people of Licking county. I wish to thank you very much for same. Very truly yours, HUBERT DAVIS.

Bat E, 323rd, L. F. A., Sec. R 12, Camp Sherman, O. Now over there.

Editor of the Advocate—I appreciate your kind thoughts, expressed by the Licking county people. I can assure you that every loyal Licking county boy is in this war with the idea of freeing this world of the injustice "over there." As for myself, I am located with the 15th company, 4th Training Battalion of 158th Depot Brigade, which helps handle all the new men, giving them all the essentials previous to their transfer to the line regiments. Sincerely yours,
H. R. BIGGS,
Camp Sherman.

Editor of the Advocate—I received the medal which you mailed me and I am just as proud of the medal as your people in that community are of her boys who are in this great struggle. I have been here three months and eight days and I have my first time to be dissatisfied with my camp life. Of course I do not get home to see my friends in Utica as often as I like, but that does not matter, for things come those who wait, just as it will to Kaiser Bill.

I am in the 158th Depot Brigade shoeing shop. We have 12 battalions to shoe for. Each battalion has 20 head of mules, besides horses.
We have something like 500 head of mules here. That is the reason we have so many to shoe. Well it all goes to make the world safe for Democracy. I do not know of any of the boys here in camp that did not get a medal. Give my best to all at home. Yours truly HERBERT LOOMIS,
Section L 31, Camp Sherman, O., 158 Depot Brigade.

I used to have trouble with my stomagainst my heart and I felt short of breath. The pain in my stomach sometimes drove me almost distracted.

"My nerves became all unstrung and I was so cross my children often asked me why I didn't take something for my health. One of my sons brought home a bottle of Tanlac and insisted that I take it. I finally did so and I am glad that I did. The pain and misery in my stomach is all gone and I am now happy at my work. My nervousness has gone and little things don't irritate me any more. Tanlac is surely a great remedy for the stomach and nerves and I am recommend-

NEWS IN THE WANT COLUMNS FOR YOU TONIGHT

BREWERS GET CUT IN THEIR COAL SUPPLY

Washington, July 11.—A serious blow to the manufacture of beer has been struck in the United States, not by prohibition action in the congress, but by an order from the fuel administration, acting with the food administration and the war industries board.

There may be beer in the country for six months to a year longer, but after that time none until the fuel situation improves, probably none until the close of the war. Then it will be up to the congress again.

And with the passing of beer will go all the near beer, the malt extracts and other imitations made from cereals. The order is not a prohibition measure in any way. It is a conservation proposition, and the first 100 per cent restriction on a non-essential industry. It will free the great stocks of coal used by the cereal beverage people for war industries, the huge quantities of their cereals for strictly food uses and their employees for work in essential industries.

It will be followed by other 100-per cent restriction from the fuel administration against nonessential industries, in each case with the co-operation of the war industries board, and where food materials are concerned, of the food administration.

"Estimates on their present supply of manufactured malt indicate a quantity sufficient to last six to ten months. The cereal supplies of the near beers will not last so long, and the dry states, where near beer is permitted, will be out of that beverage before the wet states are out of beer."

"This is merely another step in the program of curtailment of non-war industries," Fuel Administrator Garfield said.

The brewery industry consumes approximately 3,100,000 tons of coal a year. Much of this will be diverted to New England, which gets most of its coal by water, and whose water shipments at this time are far behind schedule.

All of them volunteered for the work shortly after the local board received the call. They will report to the board at 8 A.M. July 15th, and will entrain on the 12:25 Pennsylvania.

GERMAN ADMIRALTY RESPONSIBLE.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, July 10.—Insistence by the German admiralty upon an Austrian naval expedition for the destruction of the nets in the Straits of Otranto at the entrance to the Adriatic, and for an attack on the allied naval forces was responsible for the departure from Pola of the two Austrian dreadnoughts which were torpedoed by the Italians in the Adriatic on June 10, according to information gleaned from prisoners taken by the Italians in the recent fighting.

It is declared by some of the prisoners that the second Austrian dreadnought, torpedoed was the Tegethoff (Vienna) admitted the loss of the Szent Istvan. They were unable to say what the extent of the damage to the Tegethoff was, but declared it was certain she was badly crippled.

The two battleships torpedoed were of the Veribus Unitis class, 20,000-ton vessels. As they steamed down the Adriatic, escorted by 10 destroyers they were attacked by two small Italian torpedo boats near the Dalmatian Islands. The leading battleship was hit by two torpedoes and the other by one, the Italian admiralty reported. The Italian ministry of marine declared on June 19 that the evidence indicated both the dreadnoughts were sunk, one going down immediately while the other finally foundered while trying to reach Pola. The Austro-Hungarian admiralty, however, has never conceded the loss of the second warship.

New York, July 11.—Stocks were irregular at the dull opening of today's market but soon became active and advanced on reports from Washington that some of the leading steel companies had applied to the government for financial assistance. U. S. Steel declined 1 1/2 points on very large transactions.

Forty bonds were steady.

Further unsettlement was manifested during the first hour, a few stocks extending their early losses while others rallied to 1 1/2 points. Trading was suspended from 11 to 12 o'clock as a tribute to the memory of the late Mayor Mitchell.

Indications that various industrial corporations are in need of financial relief from the government participated today's general advance in the stock market. Sales approximated 655,000 shares.

College Camp, Wis. July 11.—With approximately 300 students from over 200 cities enrolled in various classes of the 34th annual Y. M. C. A. summer encampment of Association College, Chicago, of which more than half will wear the Red Triangle with the troops in Europe and in American cantonments, Lake Geneva is doing its full share in the world war for democracy. No less than seven different institutes and schools are being simultaneously conducted here. These constitute the Association War College, Railroad Association, City Association, Physical Directors, Industrial Secretaries, Boys' Work Secretaries and County Work Secretaries.

The widest diversity of denominational and secular activities are represented in the War School, the members of which will work with the boys in khaki immediately after their intensive training of four weeks here. Men have been recruited from almost every walk of life. The War School includes in its personnel a judge, clergymen, doctors, lawyers, newspapermen, university faculty members, teachers and almost every variety of business interests.

Probably at no time in the long history of the Young Men's Christian Association has there been such a striking example of self-sacrifice than in the present group of matured men and others preceding them who have voluntarily shelved all other interests, wound up their business and determined to give their full service to the winning of the war.

Canada, Holland, Norway, England, China, Japan, and South American are among the countries represented in the present encampment.

Mayer, Dean of School of City Administration; E. W. Nix, Assistant Business Manager.

Among the prominent specialists from other callings numbered among the instructors are: Harry Clark, Cleveland, Ohio; F. L. Anderson, Chicago; W. S. Hovey, Beloit, Wis.; E. C. Lindeman, Michigan Agricultural College; J. M. Tyler, Amherst, Mass.; F. G. Ward, Chicago; Henry Atkinson, Boston; Carl D. Case, Oak Park, Ill.; P. K. Holmes, Ohio Wesleyan University; A. E. FLAG WAS DEDICATED BY NEWARK CHAPTER OF EASTERN STAR

At a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star with a fine attendance of members and visitors from other Chapters, a U. S. Flag was dedicated by Rev. Mr. Hanks for the Newark Chapter.

The meeting was presided over by Attia Griffith acting as Worthy Matron, pro tem, and Dr. Howard Barrick, Worthy Patron. After the meeting closed, a fine program was rendered. Mrs. Alma Stare taking charge for the evening and announcing the number. Miss E. Beck, very charmingly gave a select reading, "Rocking Gently Old Ocean," followed by Mildred Boyd with a reading "America for me."

Mrs. Ruth Ditter a favorite of Newark, sang a solo "When the Boys Come Home," also responding to an encore.

Mrs. Alma Hafe gave a reading "Call to Colors," followed by a Piano Solo by Miss Crist, after which Mrs. Myrtle Beck, very charmingly gave a select reading, "Rocking Gently Old Ocean," followed by Mildred Boyd with a reading "America for me."

Mrs. Hulshizer sang a beautiful solo, "Hats off to the Flag," which delighted her hearers, as was evidenced by the applause she received.

Rev. Mr. Hanks then gave a very interesting talk on the flag, which all enjoyed.

Our Flag,
Behold its streaming rays unite, One mingling flood of braided light;

The red that fires the southern rose,
With spotless white from northern snows, And spangled o'er its azure, see The starry flower of Liberty.

Then hail the Banner of the Free, The starry fowled of Liberty.

The final number on the program was a song by the members "God be with Us, till we Meet Again."

GOOD MEETING OF

LAST EVENING

The Newark Ad Club held an interesting and profitable meeting Wednesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. President T. L. Davies presided and a large representation of the membership was present. Reports of officers and committees showed progress and a number of interesting suggestions pertaining to advertising were brought out.

A letter from Carl Hunt of the National Association of Advertising Clubs addressed to Walter Bowers, treasurer of the local club, was read by Secretary Alban. In this letter Mr. Hunt acknowledged receipt of application and dues for club membership in the national organization and imparted valuable information with reference to newly organized clubs that will prove of great value in the local work.

Mr. Bowers announced that C. H.
Spencer, chairman of the war savings stamp committee, would appreciate the merchants calling attention to the sale of war stamps in their advertising whenever possible. This request was unanimously granted. A letter to George Herman from Charles Maurath of the Chamber of Commerce of Kalamazoo, Mich., was read. This letter was in reply to inquiries made of Mr. Maurath with reference to "Dollar Day" and an invitation for him to meet with the club at some future time. Mr. Maurath suggested September as a good time to feature Dollar Day and expressed his willingness to address the club on September 3. On motion an invitation was extended to Mr. Maurath with the club on the above date. Mr.
Maurath is a former Newark resident and it is probable that the club will arrange to hold its annual meeting and dinner on the evening Mr.
Maurath will be present.

The application of Louis Ostrove proprietor of The Bargain Shoe Store for membership in the club was read and referred to the membership committee.

The Foot Rule Of Successful Retail Advertising and What Lies Behind It.

A series of subjects for addresses published by the Educational Clubs of the World, will be featured by the club at each meeting and the first of the series was taken up last evening. The series is divided into inches and the first inch under the caption of "The Merchandise or Service" was handled by the following: S. E. Alban gave a talk on the subject "Can you reasonably expect to sell it through advertising and is it worth while?" C. H. Federman's subject was "Can You Get Sample and Is It Novel?" B. L. Eckfeld, "Is It an Exceptional Value and Is It Consumed?" A general discussion of the by the members followed.

T. J. Applevard secretary of the Chamber of Commerce briefly adressed the club pointing out the many advantages of Newark as a trade center.—The next meeting of the club will be held July 24th.

Centerburg Woman President.

district elected Mrs. Lucille Palmer, Centerburg, president; Mrs. Cora White, Westerville, vice president; Mrs. Edna Priest, Westerville, secretary, and Mrs. Rose Piper, Westerville, chaplain.

Sale of War Stamps.

State Chairman Wolfe upon receipt of the War Savings stamp sales report from Licking county for the past week sent to the local committee this message today: "Your sale of $4,000 for one week is the right kind of a Fourth of July contribution to the cause of freedom.
The flood of war savings money from your county and this great old state of Ohio that is pouring into the treasury is the answer of our people to the call of our government for support of its ideals of world liberty. Warm congratulations."

Elected District Superintendent.

Professor Reed F. Johnson of Brownsville, has been elected district superintendent of schools to succeed Professor Byron Zwyer of Franklin county. The townships comprised in this district are: Granville, Union, Licking, Franklin, Hopewell and Bowling Green.

Are Improving.

The four men who were injured in an automobile accident on the National road near Linville, Tuesday mornings, are now out of danger and improving rapidly.

Returned to Duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hess returned this evening to their duties after visiting at the home of the former's parents, West Church street. Mrs.
Hess returned to Washington, D. C., where she is in the naval reserve unit.
Mr. Hess returned to the U. S. S. Virginia, Norfolk, Va.

SECRETARY RESIGNS.

Columbus, July 11.—George W.
Gillette has resigned as secretary of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, to enter the mercantile field. John T. Daniels, of the Central Union Telephone company, will succeed Gillette.

Mr. Daniels was manager of the Bell Telephone service in Newark, O., a number of years ago.

GRANDMOTHER WAS THE DRUGGIST.

In the early days of our country grandmother was the druggist, and her drugs consisted mostly of roots and herbs gathered from the fields and forests. There was peppermint for indigestion, mullein for coughs, skullcap for nervousness, thoroughwort for colds, wormwood for bruises and sprains, and so on. They were successful remedies, too. It was from combination of such roots and herbs that Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., more than forty years ago, originated her now famous Vegetable Compound; and during all these long years no other remedy has ever been discovered to restore health to ailing women so successfully as this good old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

BACKACHE KILLS!

Don't make the fatal mistake of neglecting what may seem to be a "simple little backache." There isn't any such thing. It may be the first warning that your kidneys are not working properly, and throwing off the poisons as they should. If this is the case, go after the cause of that backache and do it quickly, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will give almost immediate relief from kidney and bladder troubles, which may be the unsuspected cause of general ill health. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form to take, and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief, or your money will be refunded. Get them at any drug store, but be sure to insist on the GOLD MEDAL brand, and take no other. In boxes, three sizes.

Facial Defects

Most of the squinting and involuntary wrinkling of the forehead is caused by eye strain.
When these habits are noticed in

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., July 11.—Veteran regular army officers of the 15th depot brigade, who have faithfully served their country for a number of years, are to be rewarded for their excellent services soon with promotions.

It was learned at camp today that high military authorities had recommended promotions for a number of the officers and that within a few days a number of majors would be promoted to colonels, while several captains would be promoted to majors.

With the promotions, it is expected that several of the officers will be transferred to units of the new division, which will undoubtedly be formed here after the departure of the 34th.

Several young men clerks in the camp exchanges, who replaced the girls on July 4, have been arrested charged with petty larceny in connection with the handling of cash.
Two of the youths arrested confessed.

Members of the 39th ammunition train and train headquarters and the 335th infantry regiment, who started practice on the M. Logan rifle range early this week, are making even better marks than those hung up by other infantry regiments and the 39th engineers last week.

Rev. Charles Palmer of this city will preach at the United Brethren church, Philo, next Sunday evening.

REV. C. G. HAZLETT

NAMED BY CHURCH AS

A MILITARY PASTOR

Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett has been chosen by the committee appointed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, to become "Military Pastor" in one of the cantonments. The call was received on Monday by the session of the church and was acted upon by that body on Tuesday evening. The congregation of the church will take action upon it on the coming Sunday.

At the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, held in May, 1917, at Dallas, Texas, just forty days after the United States had declared war, that body with great solemnity and in absolute unanimity, recorded its "loyal allegiance to the Government of the United States and its unflinching support of the President in the prosecution of this war for freedom and peace."

In order to give effect to this declaration the General Assembly voted to appoint a National Service Commission. This commission was instructed to make a formal offer to the Government of the services of the Presbyterian church. There is to be in this no exploitation of Presbyterianism nor any emphasis laid upon denominational propaganda. The work, while independent in a war, is to be conducted in perfect harmony with that of the chaplain and of the Y. M. C. A.

The fine and vital work of these "Military Pastors" is impossible to tabulate but it is work that will put heart into the boys and will help to overcome the inevitable feeling of homesickness.

This work, while not under Government control, has its complete sanction. Dr. Hazlett does not know to which cantonment he will be appointed nor just at what time he will be called, though it will doubtless be soon. The appointment is made for three months with a probable extension of time at the end of that period.

The appointees are chosen by the commission for qualities that will have a value in this line of work and it is undoubtedly a high compliment to Dr. Hazlett to be among the first pastors selected.

The church will supply the pulpit during Dr. Hazlett's absence. Dr. Hazlett spoke enthusiastically of the fine spirit displayed by the various churches in thus lending their pastors to this work, an act that involves more or less sacrifice but which is done willingly and cheerfully.

Dr. Hazlett's optimistic nature, his fine conscientiousness and earnestness, and his sympathetic understanding of boy nature, are ideal qualifications for the work that he is about to undertake.

TO HONOR MEMORY OF DENNIS HAYES AT ZANESVILLE, O.

A monument is to be unveiled next Sunday in Mt. Calvary cemetery, Zanesville honoring the memory of the late Dennis A. Hayes. Thousands of people will participate in the dedicatory ceremonies and a number of prominent speakers and labor leaders will be present. A big parade of the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association of the United States and Canada will precede the ceremonies at the cemetery, in which parade a delegation from Newark will take part.

Dennis A. Hayes was former president of the G. B. B. A., and lived for a number of years in this city.

RESIGNS POSITION

WITH STANDARD CO., TO ENTER THE ARMY

O. H. Browne, local manager for the past four years of the Standard Oil company, will leave soon for Camp Sherman. Mr. Browne's resignation will go into effect July 15. His successor has not yet been appointed. The qualities that have contributed to his success as a business manager will doubtless make themselves equally effective in his new field, and we confidently predict that a series of promotions will be his lot. If he should march triumphantly into Berlin and should have the privilege of cheering the allies' flags as they float proudly over that chastened city, we presume he will exclaim "Oils well that ends well!"

HOME NEWSPAPERS WANTED BY SOLDIERS

London, July 11.—"More home newspapers is the constant appeal from the American soldiers in the trenches and hospitals in Great Britain," says an American Red Cross report.

The American Red Cross Library committee in London now is furnishing reading matter for 25,000 men weekly, the report states, but the supply consists largely of books.

The supply of home newspapers is not equal to one tenth of the demand for them. "Regarding books," says the report, "the men ask principally for fiction, and light fiction at that, but the American magazines and newspapers give far greater satisfaction than do books. The cry of the men is continually for more home newspapers."

In the navy it is quite natural for an old sea dog to feel a contempt for a cutboat.

APPOINTED AS ASST. SURGEON S. & S. HOSPITAL

Dr. Paul C. Keller of this city, a recent graduate of Ohio State University, who for a number of years has made his home with Eleanor P. Lumley at 80 North Sixteenth street, has been appointed an assistant surgeon at the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky, Ohio. The Sandusky Register has the following:

After several months of diligent search and correspondence, Dr. J. T. Hayes has finally secured another assistant surgeon for duty at the hospital, Dr. Paul C. Keller, whose home is at Newark, Ohio, reported for duty as second assistant surgeon Friday evening. He is a graduate of the Ohio State University, having graduated the present year, and comes to the Home well recommended. He has passed the state board examination and has also been accepted for army service, but is held in reserve for future call. He was in the same medical college during the time Doctors Kenker, Sowash and Saunders, former assistant surgeons, were graduating, but not in the same classes, and will hold the rank of second assistant surgeon during the service here.

When the two cars had been stripped of valuables, the bandits fled in motor cars, which had either been left nearby or brought up by confederates.

Members of the train crew started for this city and found the engine and two cars deserted. They ran back to the coaches, coupled up the train and proceeded with the wounded to Parsons, Kans. The bandits are described as young men, although all were masked. Their familiarity with the train schedule and their handling of the engine and detached cars was the feature that attracted the attention of railroad men as it was taken to indicate at least some of them had had railway experience.

SECURED LITTLE MONEY. Kansas City, July 11.—Officials of the American Express company said here today that the robbers who held up a fast Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train late last night near Paola, Kans., obtained very little money from the express car. They declared about $50 worth of jewelry was probably the most valuable shipment the car contained.

MILITARY LEADERS BROUGHT ABOUT FALL OF VON KUEHLMANN

(Associated Press Telegram.) London, July 11.—The fall of Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann was arranged by Germany army headquarters and is regarded in Germany as the introduction of an open Pan-German regime under the control of the military leaders. Special dispatches from Holland say it is described as the biggest of a series of Pan-German victories and the Pan-German newspapers do not disguise their delight over it.

Reports of the appointment of Admiral von Hintze as foreign secretary were accepted as final by the Pan-German papers which contend that this involves no change of policy. This contention, however, as well as the assurance that von Hintze is not a Pan-German, is false, according to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. Von Hintze is described by him as a swashbuckler and an intimate and creature of Admiral von Tirpitz, the Pan-German leader.

Much excitement was caused in the corridors of the reichstag Tuesday by a rumor that von Hintze had been appointed foreign secretary. After the socialists had informed the president they were not prepared to vote the war credit until they knew what foreign policy von Hintze was going to pursue it was agreed, as a way out of a threatening situation which possibly would result from the majority socialists joining the minority group in rejecting the war credit, that the full sitting should be adjourned so that the house could go into committee for a confidential discussion.

The result of this gathering was the semi-official announcement of von Hintze's appointment took a tentative form, saying merely that he had been "named" as von Kuehlmann's successor.

CORCY TAKEN

During last night, as today's statement from Paris shows, the French made good their occupation of Corcy and drove in still further south on the line for a short distance. The net result together with an artillery operation further north late in June when a dangerous salient east of the Laversine ravine which the Germans created in their June offensive was wiped out, is that the French front now runs in almost a straight line along a series of strong positions for a distance of approximately 12 miles from the Aisne southward to below Corcy.

Between this and the American sector to the south, northwest of Chateau-Thierry there is still a westward bulge in the lines. The French pressure on the north and the American on the south, however, seems likely to result in the wiping out of this salient by the continuation of the present tactics of local plunges in this sector. If the Germans hold off much longer in launching their expected renewed offensive.

German artillery and aerial activity has increased on the Flanders battlefield, but the infantry still held in check. Elsewhere on the western front there has been no marked activity except southwest of Soissons where the French have advanced and further improved their positions.

Since the revival of the enemy bombardments most attention has been paid to the sector north and south of the Somme, east of Amiens, and to the Lys salient, west of Hazebrouck, an important railway and supply center in the Flanders region. The German guns are busy pounding the sectors of Hinges, on the south and Leers on the north of the Lys battleground. In Picardy the area about Morlancourt is being shelled.

Enemy aviators, who had not been very active on the British portion of the battlefield, are quite active in Flanders. British airmen in battles with the Germans have accounted for 10 of them, while another fell before the British anti-aircraft fire. British superiority in the air is now firmly established, and scouts and bombing planes have outfought and harassed the enemy on innumerable occasions recently.

French troops in their latest gain south of the Aisne have extended their lines around Corcy and Longpont, northwest of Villers-Cotterets. Enemy opposition at Chavigny farm has been overcome and French patrols have pushed forward to the outskirts of Longpont and captured Corcy. Prisoners were taken. Further southeast American aviators have been active around Chateau-Thierry.

Under Franco-Italian pressure the Austrian troops in Albania have retired beyond the Berat-Fier line in the direction of the Skumbi river and Elbasan, the nearest natural defense northward. The evacuation of Berat, announced from Vienna, probably was the Italian progress around Fier and French advance between Fier and Ochrid and the Tormica valley up which the Austrians also are retreating, pursued by the allied forces.

Reports that Admiral von Hintze, a strong Pan-German, was to be named as successor to Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann, resigned, have caused a small crisis in the reichstag. The socialists have declined to vote the war credit which cannot be passed without their aid until the new secretary announces his policies. Apparently von Hintze has been selected, but the action of the socialists brought forth a more guarded semi-official announcement which declared that the admiral had been "named." No official announcement of von Kuehlmann's successor has been made.
